POLICEMAN DIES FROM KICK OF MAN ARRESTED FOR DRUNKENNESS

James McCarrell Lives But Four Hours After Being
Booted in Stomach

PROMINENT HOUSTON OFFICER

Assailant Arrested by Posse of Citizens and Taken to County Jail to Prevent Lynching—Will be Arraigned for Murder.

Kicked in the stomach by Dominic Note, a drunk whom he was placing in the lockup, Policeman James McCarrell, of Houston died at his home there about 10 o'clock Sunday night. Note was placed in jail at Washington to avoid a threatened lynching. He will be arraigned on a murder charge.

Note, who is employed in the Midland No. 1 mine, owns property, and has a wife and seven children, was intoxicated and acting in a disorderly manner on the street at an hour when there were many passers-by. McCarrell, who had gone on duty, placed him under arrest and took him to the town jail for safekeeping during the night.

While the officer was stopping to unlock the door to a cell. Not kicked him viciously in the abdomen. McCarrell was knocked unconscious, and although four physicians worked with him for two hours he failed to rally.

Note took to his heels and was run down by a posse of citizens about a quarter of a mile from the lockup. He was taken in custody by Constable Ben Rathbone and when talk of lynching became rife was taken to the county seat. Feeling ran high over the death of the policeman.

McCarrell was a native of Greene county, having been born about 62 years ago near Swartz, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel McCarrell. He was married and his wife and three daughters, Wilda, Helen and Frieda, the eldest being 14 years old, survive.

McCarrell had been night policeman at Houston for sometime and was well liked. He was an efficient officer, having materially reduced disorder at Houston since taking the position.

TOWBOAT STRIKES MOTORBOAT; ONE MAN IS DROWNED

Andrew Tillman, aged 35 years of Belle Vernon was drowned and his companion Andrew Vannaleck had a narrow escape when their motorboat was struck by the towboat Rover, while they were endeavoring to repair engine trouble on their boat Saturday morning at 1:40 o'clock out from Belle Vernon. Up until a late hour today Tillman's body had not been recovered. With a small party of friends Tillman and Vannaleck enjoyed a motorboat trip to Brownsville Saturday in Tillman's boat. Returning they experienced engine trouble and it took them three hours to make the trip. Upon arriving at the Belle Vernon shore Tillman and Vannaleck determined to locate the cause of the trouble and to that end pushed out into the middle of the stream. It is said they were working at the engine when their craft was struck by the Rover and overturned.

Tillman was a strong swimmer but it is believed he was injured by the overturning boat so that he could not make his way to shore. Vannaleck struck out strongly after a deep dive and managed to reach the shore. He did not know what became of his companion. The motorboat carried no lights it is said and the collision was apparently unavoidable.

Tillman was a fitter employed at the Belle Vernon plant of the American Window Glass company. He was married and lived on Main street Belle Vernon.

Cary E. Piper Found Dead on Porch of Home After Return From Church

IN BUSINESS HERE 20 YEARS

Comes from Coal Centre, Place of Birth to Enter Drug Trade—Widow And One Son Survive—Funeral to Be Conducted Wednesday.

Toppling from his chair while reading a newspaper, Cary E. Piper, aged 65 years, one of the best known druggists and business men of Charleroi was found dead by his wife Sunday afternoon at 1:15 o'clock on the front porch of their home. His death was due to apoplexy.

Apparently in his usual health and in good spirits Mr. Piper attended church Sunday morning at the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church, where he holds membership. From there he went to his drug store at the corner of Fifth street and Fallowfield avenue and after a brief time returned home. Seating himself on the front porch he took up a newspaper and it seemed reading and a moment later without a warning, Mr. Piper within the last few years had suffered ill health, but lately had appeared to be in good condition physically. His death was a distinct shock not only to his family and friends but to the community.

Mr. Piper has been located in the drug business in Charleroi since 1892, conducting the oldest established pharmacy here. He came from Coal Centre, where he was born December 8, 1851 in what then was known as Greenfield. Lately he has been greatly improving his store.

In business life Mr. Piper's first experience was gained in a grocery store at Coal Centre. In 1874 he and his brother Austin Piper opened a drug store there. It was successfully operated for a number of years preceding Mr. Piper's removal to Charleroi. After locating here a store was opened in Donora and it too proved a successful business institution.

Mr. Piper was a stockholder and director of the Bank of Charleroi. He was a member of Charleroi lodge, No. 615 Free and Accepted Masons, Monessen chapter Royal Arch Masons, McKean Commandery No. 80 Knights Templar and Syria Temple A. A. O. N. M. S. of Pittsburgh.

In the family there are the widow, Mrs. Alice Furlong Piper and one son, Earl E. Piper, who has been associated with his father in the drug business. One brother Austin lives in California and one sister, Mrs. Henry Jamison resides in Altoona.

The funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock with services at the late home conducted by his pastor, Rev. John R. Burson of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church. Interment will be in Howe's cemetery.

Mrs. A. D. Phillips and daughter Sarah of Monongahela visited at the home of Fred W. Brady Sunday.

One church proposes to reduce the Lord's Prayer in size. Lots of individuals go them one farther by cutting out the whole thing.

His theme was that permanent happiness depends more upon internal than external conditions.

A feature of the service was the music that was rendered by a quartet consisting of Mrs. I. T. Daniel, soprano; Miss Mabel Orange, contralto; Herbert Dreyer, tenor and Prof. I. T. Daniel, bass, and solos sung by Max Braddock, tenor, of Fayette City; Miss Leila Orange was accompanist. The two quartet numbers were "Rejoice in the Lord", and "God is a Spirit."

ON DROWSINESS IN CHURCH

Victimized air and subdued light are commonly regarded as the two leading causes of sleepiness in church. Lack of fresh air has been blamed generally that many old churches have been remodelled for better ventilation and the newer ones have been planned with man's need for oxygen in mind. Soft tones in the lighting from stained glass have not been thought sufficiently serious to be eliminated. Whatever the causes, drowsiness in church particularly in summer, is a problem, trying to both pastor and communicant, says the Pittsburgh Gazette Times.

The most ardent pulpit speaker is confused by the sight of drooping auditors and sleepiness often becomes such a big bear to church-goers, especially men, that they stay away to avoid embarrassment. No doubt faulty ventilation is a contributing cause. So is over-heating. But drowsiness afflicts audiences out of doors as well as in. There are open air amphitheatres devoted to lectures, dramatic entertainment and religious services and in these perfect conditions are supposed to obtain. But there are always a number of listeners who cannot keep awake. So church sleepiness cannot be laid to bad air and lighting alone. Careful self questioning may reveal that a genuine desire to hear and be benefited lies at the bottom of staying awake and paying attention to the sermon. The thought that church housing must be scientifically correct and physically comfortable, the pastor a gifted orator and a logical thinker, and the choir splendidly attuned, is selfish and unlike a Christian.

It is easy to soothe the conscience these warm Sundays by thinking that there is little use going to church that you would only fall to sleep. It is one's duty to go and stay awake, not the duty of the church to answer every physical want of its people. Many city churches are staying open throughout the summer because their pastors deem it ill advised to close and risk losing opportunities to do their appointed work. If yours is one of these, regard drowsiness as a sin and attend regularly.

The theory that powdered coal will answer the place of gas in industrial operations arises from facts learned in investigations of causes of mine explosions. It used to be considered on a sort of hit or miss plan that all mine explosions were due in some manner, either directly or indirectly to gas trouble. When the United States Bureau of Mine started a campaign of investigation it determined coal dust caused a great many. Experiments naturally enough followed until scientific men lately found coal dust—powdered coal—could be used very satisfactorily as a substitute for gas. Probably on the whole it will be cheaper than manufactured gas and when natural gas is unobtainable in sufficient quantities, cheaper than that. But definite results and possibilities in big industrial operations will have to be awaited until this winter when the United States Steel Corporation at its immense Donora mills, gives the new discovery its first important test.

There recently entered the office of a Doctor who said a young man had the two most common "ill" ailments to which you are your valuable medicine.

"It helped you, did it?" asked the doctor, much pleased.

"It helped wonderfully!"

"A many bottles did you use of it?"

"I used the truth, but I didn't say so. My neck is sore and I can't turn my head to look—Exchange.

... a sign of advanced toward the door.

Mrs. Flinn stood in the doorway with a huge stick in her hand and an angry frown on her face.

"Good morning," said the stranger, politely. "I'm looking for Mr. Flinn."

"So'm I," announced Mrs. Flinn, shifting the stick to the other hand.

A EATHLESS AGE.

For a Thousand Years the People of Europe Went Unwashed.

When Egypt, Greece and Rome were at the height of their ancient power their citizens made bathing a social function, a municipal duty and a religious observance. The public baths of these nations were magnificent architectural and important as centers of hygienic and municipal sentiment.

With the decadence of these countries the world seems to have reverted to a period of mental stoth and physical uncleanness. As an authority on the matter puts it:

"For 1,000 years there was not a man or woman in Europe that ever took a bath. If the historian of these times, Michelet, is to be believed. The ancient love of the bath seemed to have disappeared from off the land."

"There was no Greece or Rome to hold up the ensign of cleanliness to the nations of Europe. Small wonder that the people of the continent became physical decadents, as indeed they were in spite of tradition to the contrary."

"It is not strange that there came the awful epidemics that cut off one-fourth of the population of Europe—the spotted plague, the black death, the sweating sickness and the terrible mental epidemics that followed in their train—the dancing mania, the mewing mania and the biting mania."

"The bath was banished and filth was almost deified. Indeed, it was then thought that the sanctification of the body was only accomplished when that body was indescribably dirty."

THE MOUSE IN THE CREAM.

Being a Story of a Pound of Butter, Which Points a Moral.

Some years ago when Thomas L. Calvert, chief inspector of the Ohio dairy and food department, was running a general store in a country town, a woman came into the store with a small quantity of butter which she wanted to sell.

"We made this for our own use, but we found that a mouse had run through the cream, so we decided to sell it," she said. "You know, it will make no difference just so the person who eats the butter does not know that the mouse was in the cream," she added.

Mr. Calvert bought the butter, padded it into a different shape and put it away in a cool place in the rear of the store. Two days later the woman came back to the store to buy some butter. Mr. Calvert sold her the butter he had bought from her. He had bought it for that very reason, intending to teach the woman a lesson. The next time the woman came to the store she told Mr. Calvert that the butter he had sold her was of fine quality and she asked where he got it.

"It was what you sold me; you know you said that it would make no difference if no one knew that the mouse ran through the cream," Mr. Calvert said.—Columbus Dispatch.

LANGUAGE AND THE BIBLE.

The Book That Standardized All the Dialects of Britain.

Before the printing of the Bible there was no English language. It was the Bible that standardized all the dialects of Britain and that bound them together into a living speech, and it was the Bible that was the foundation of the education and culture of England. As the English historian Green says, "The English people became a people of a book, and that book was the Bible."

To a large degree the same is true of Germany, but it is not necessary to go back to the middle ages to find the Bible forming a nation's culture and fixing its language.

On many of the mission fields, especially in Africa, the language of the natives had never been reduced to writing until the missionary provided them with an alphabet in order that the Bible might be translated into their tongues. The Bible has then become both the language-textbook and the spiritual guide of these African nations. In mission schools the world over the Bible is the language textbook. The people of the mission lands want their children to learn the western tongue, and they send them to the school. They learn the missionary's language, but in the learning they find the missionary's God.—Christian Herald.

EGGS IN HEATED RICE.

A Way the Chinese Have For Hatching Ducks and Chickens.

The Chinese method of hatching as many as 500 duck and chicken eggs in one sitting has not yet been adopted in this country.

Unbuckled rice is used for the purpose, and when this has been roasted it is either cooked by a fanning process or the wind is allowed to blow through it until it is lukewarm.

The breeder then sprinkles a three inch layer of rice in the bottom of a wooden tub, and on this surface places about 100 eggs; another layer of rice about two inches thick is spread over them, and on this layer eggs are also placed, and the tub is filled in this way until there are six layers of rice and five of eggs, making 300 eggs in all in the tub.

Every twenty-four hours the rice has to be heated, and for this purpose the eggs have to be removed, the bottom layer this time being placed on top and the other layers one row lower down, the eggs that occupied the central position in the tub now being placed at the edges.

There is some difficulty in gauging the exact time at which the eggs will hatch, and unless care is taken some of the young ones are likely to be smothered. This is, of course, the point at which the ability of the expert is shown.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Economical.

A good story is related of an English theatrical manager who by thrift and hard work had amassed a fortune. Previous to the production of one play the stage carpenters had to repair a trap, and the head carpenter went to the manager and informed him that it could not be done in the dark.

"Well, lad, thee won't have 't gas," answered the manager. "Here, tak this and buy a candle."

And he handed him a halfpenny.

The carpenter pleaded that they wanted two in order to get sufficient light.

"How long will 't job take thee?" asked the manager.

"About ten minutes," was the reply.

"Then eat 't candle in two," was the answer. "Thee won't have any more money."

A little of almost every precious mineral has been found in Spitzbergen, and there are no signs, according to geologists, that precious minerals exist in paying quantities.

Three Runs in Eighth Inning and
Sew up Game—Shaw and Lane
Both Pitch Pretty Ball

Though outitting the Monongahela Independents the Pittsburg Steel Products company lost the second of the series 4 to 3 on the Monongahela grounds Saturday. Monongahela bunched hits in the eighth inning after the Steel Products seemed to have the game sewed up and scored three runs which won the struggle for them.

Arcene Shaw pitched for the Steel Products and Lane for Monongahela. These two formidable rivals made it hot for each other. Monongahela scored in the third and from that time until the sixth not a run crossed the plate on either side. In the sixth Russell singled and Joe Guder hit a home run, totaling two. In the seventh Sanner got to first on an error. Courtney sacrificed. Sanner went third on a fielder's choice and scored on Wilson's single. Monongahela won on four singles a base on balls and a passed ball in the eighth. Score:

ELEVEN INNING GAME GOES TO THE LUCKEYS

Pittsburg Steel Company Loses to Visiting Pittsburgers 7 to 5—Pitchers Have Merry Battle All the Way Through

Playing on the Charleroi grounds the Pittsburg Steel Company baseball club lost a great eleven inning game Saturday to the Luckey A. C. of Pittsburg through troublesome behavior in the last inning. In eight innings the score was tied 4 to 4. In their first of the eleventh inning the visitors proceeded to chase three runs across the plate and the best Hooks Urban's Steel Company's lads could do was to score one, leaving the game at the conclusion 7 to 5.

Hits was not by any means numerous for either side, the pitchers indulging in a battle. The visitors got their first run in the fourth inning on an error and a sacrifice. In the sixth both teams scored two runs. The visitors brought theirs in on three hits. The Pittsburg Steel secured their runs on two hits and a base on balls, Phillips and Kerfoot doing the scoring. ### RECOVERY OF NEW JERSEY WOMAN

Due To Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Bridgeton, N.J.—"I cannot speak too highly of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for inflammation and other weaknesses. I was very irregular and would have terrible pains so that I could hardly take a step. Sometimes I would be so miserable that I could not sweep a room. I doctored part of the time but felt no change. I later took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and felt a change for the better after the second day. I took it until I was in a good healthy condition. I recommend the Pinkham remedy to all women as I have used it with good results."

Mrs. M. L. T. Cummings, 24 New Street, Bridgeton, N.J.

Such testimony should be accepted by all women as convincing evidence of the excellence of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a remedy for the distressing ills of women such as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, backache, painful periods, nervousness and all kindred ailments.

in the eight inning. Urban's boys chalked up three hits, one a two bagger and scores were made by Phillips and Kroy. One hit a base on balls and a sacrifice gave Luckey one run. Bases on balls were too frequent for the visitors in the final round, there being three, and this game. Pittsburg Steel scored in the last on a hit, a fielder's choice, an error and an out, Kelly making the run. Score:
